Brexit will significantly impact businesses based in the UK. Especially those that trade with the EU.

While we don't know the details yet, it's clear that Ireland could be a key player in linking English speaking businesses to the EU. And, an already popular strategy is to set up an Irish company in preparation for the changes.

We can incorporate a new company for you in just 3 working days.

If you want to only form a company just for now, we are more than happy to oblige as we are company formation experts.

It is what we do.

But we can do more!

That's why clients describe us as "the helpful accountants".

Our clients find that our commitment to providing a fast and efficient service is of vital importance - it means that new company directors can quickly get on with other profit generating tasks such as sales research and business development.

If you wish to be bored we can advise you in excruciating detail on all the essential paperwork that's needed. After all that's what accountants are exceptional at!!

However, at Parfrey Murphy, we always endeavour to reduce the boring bits, go beyond the basics and go that extra mile for you. (Click here to see options/pricing)

Initial advice

For example, we'll guide you through key decisions like the appointment of directors and the company secretary.

And we'll help you choose a company name and advise you of your options should the one you've selected already be registered with the Companies Registration Office (CRO).

And also by taking a genuinely helpful and open approach, we'll also speak to you about the advantages and disadvantages of trading through a limited company, the tax saving issues involved and we'll even discuss whether the formation of a company really is the most advantageous move for your business.

And if it's not then we will advise you not to do it!

Because there must be a good commercial reason for forming a company. If not, don't.
