Many businesses are required by the law, or perhaps by their constitution documents or trade representative body, to have an annual audit of their financial accounts.

For most, having an audit means someone coming in and preparing a set of accounts they don't fully understand. A necessary evil that just has to be endured. We believe that it doesn't have to be this way.

Our approach is to turn the audit into a tool that can help you run your business more effectively. When your audit is over we want you to understand the numbers in your accounts and what they mean to you on a day-to-day basis in running your business. That way you can grow your business.

We strive to transform the preparation and audit of your annual accounts into an annual review of potential problem areas so that we can recommend opportunities to improve your business performance We will discuss the problems and opportunities with you and can help you implement any agreed solutions.

Our aim to complete your audit within 30 days of receipt of your complete books and records and as soon as we can after your year-end so that the numbers have meaning and relevance for you for the next year.
